ibis: a new hotel in Colombia

After 24 months of construction works, the ibis Bogota Museo hotel is now a feature of the Colombian capital, an imposing 11,480-square-foot building with 15 stories and 216 rooms.

It is a strategic spot for the brand, in the heart of the international centre of Bogota, halfway between tourist sites and the business district.

A situation that allows travellers to visit the National Museum, just a few steps from the hotel, and be in Bolivar Square, the city's historical, political and religious centre, within 15 minutes.

Hotel guests enjoy numerous services 24/7. Beverages and snacks are available around the clock. Among hotel services, the ibis Bogota Museo serves breakfast starting at 4 a.m. and features a lobby bar, free wireless Internet access and parking.

ibis key figures

Although this is the first ibis in Colombia, the brand is already well known in Latin America, especially in Brazil where it now operates 50 hotels throughout the country.

In all, the ibis network boasts more than 860 hotels in 45 countries and more than 100,000 rooms.
