Listen to the original song composed for Sofitel

The French pop rock singer Berry and jazzman Manou created the original soundtrack composed for Sofitel. English lyrics sung with an irresistible French accent in a wink to

“The French Touch”, conjure up memories of an unforgettable stay in a Sofitel hotel.

This happy pause served as a magnificent inspiration for Berry, who offers the most irresistible invitation to travel in a soft, sensuous voice.

This ode to the good life is the perfect sound track for a stay spent in Sofitel hotels around the world, wherever “Life is Magnifique”.

Mademoiselle Berry ?

Behind the pseudonym is a talented artist with an unusual background. At sixteen, she left school for the stage, interpreting the works of classic and contemporary playwrights. Her passion for writing and her love for her audiences soon transformed the young actress into a singer. Her meeting with jazz composer Manou and guitarist Lionel Dudognon led to the album “Mademoiselle”, which went gold in just a few months and led to Berry’s nomination for a “Victoires de la Musique” 2009 french award award.
